DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (if known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

France building, 2 stories, under a hip roof. oblong, the roof ridgeline runs north-south. the building facing east.

Although this structure has been altered drastically, with formstone on the east facade, single-paned windows without shutters, fenestration on the first floor altered drastically with two gawky little protrusions for entry into the bar and the restaurant at the north and south ends of the building, it still seems possible that the general proportions of the building could warrant a restoration to liveable textures and details of construction, replacing formstone with clapboard siding and shutters beside original type of sash, etc. to make this very conspicuous building on the town square a credit, not a hideous detriment to the town.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE (Include Personages, Dates, Events, Etc.)

This horror appears from the rear to be a decent-looking structure, clapboard-appearing aluminum siding under the trim roofline raises hopes that the same on the facade with shutters and an entry under a long porch or two porticos, and windows less bleak, might give this building that is in a conspicuous spot in central Aberdeen a little of the dignity the town so badly needs. This might in fact be the turning point in a restoration of the town.
