Architectural Survey File

This is the architectural survey file for this MIHP record. The survey file is organized reverse-chronological (that is, with the latest material on top). It contains all MIHP inventory forms, National Register nomination forms, determinations of eligibility (DOE) forms, and accompanying documentation such as photographs and maps.

Users should be aware that additional undigitized material about this property may be found in on-site architectural reports, copies of HABS/HAER or other documentation, drawings, and the “vertical files” at the MHT Library in Crownsville. The vertical files may include newspaper clippings, field notes, draft versions of forms and architectural reports, photographs, maps, and drawings. Researchers who need a thorough understanding of this property should plan to visit the MHT Library as part of their research project; look at the MHT web site (mht.maryland.gov) for details about how to make an appointment.

All material is property of the Maryland Historical Trust.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Templeville School is located on the south side of Maryland Route 302 in Templeville, Caroline County.

It is constructed of shingle covered frame on a block foundation. The main facade (north elevation) has a central door with a 6/6 pane sash window to each side and a louvered ventilator in the peake of the gable. There is a plain pediment roof, one bay, one story entrance parch supported on Doric columns. The cornice returns at the corners. The east and west facades have a single 6/6 pane sash window towards the north side and a large row of six 9/9 pane sash windows on the south side of the facades. To the east side of the structure is a shed addition with a block chimney.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Templeville School is an interesting one room school house which has seen its day as a school since the school system has changed in recent years. The building is still in good structural condition and would be useable for another purpose.
