

AL-I-B-039 Trail Frame House
Rt. 40
Bellegrove, Allegany Co. MD
Not Eligible

The Trail Frame House was not accessible due to a steep, deeply rutted, snowy, muddy driveway posted "No Trespassing". The house as visible from the end of the drive appears to be in similar condition to its status during the Maryland Historical Trust Survey, from which report this description is taken.

This two-story frame house is three bays long with a rear ell. The weatherboarded structure stands on a stone foundation. Each section has an interior brick chimney. One porch covers the front of the house and another porch covers one side of the ell. 2/2 sash windows light the house.

This house is an average example of a late nineteenth century farmhouse. Because it has lost integrity due to deterioration of original materials it is recommended as not eligible for the National Register of Historic Places.

Trail Frame House
AL-I-B-039
South of Scenic Route 40
Piney Grove
late 19th century

Trail Frame House, located south of Scenic Route 40, is a typical rural dwelling in the mountainous terrain of eastern Allegany County near Flintstone. The building originally consisted of a two and a half story, three bays wide rectangular structure of frame with weatherboard wall construction. The building still retains its original appearance. The original owners of the house, Clara W. and Julius Brinkman, farmed the property fairly successfully, even though farming in that area is a risky undertaking. The house stands as a memorial to the determination of the farmers of that region.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

Trail Frame House is located south of Scenic Route 40 at Piney Grove, Maryland.

This building originally consisted of a two and one half story, three bays wide rectangular structure. Wall construction is frame with weather board.

The high foundation is a random rubblestone with a plain water table. The gable flank roof is covered with corugated tin. Eaves consist of a box cornice, sloped soffit and frieze.

Wall features include cornerboards. One original brick chimney is corbeled and is located inside end. Another inside end chimney on the original has been removed.

Two entrances on the front or southeastern facade have recessed panels and one light each. Windows are pegged, two over two lights, with plain frames and wooden slipsills. One light windows are located on the second and a half floor gabled ends.

A two bays wide, gabled, weatherboard addition on the northwest is supported by wooden posts. Eaves of the addition consist of a box cornice,soffit, and frieze on the gabled ends, and of a simple overhang with fascia on the flanks. Windows of the addition are pegged with two over two lights. The brick chimney is located inside end.

Two shed roofed porches are located on the original and the addition. The roofs of these porches are supported by plain wooden posts.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Trail Frame House is located in the Flintstone district of Allegany County, an area widely dispersed with farmers. In 1881, the village of Flintstone had 315 residents, while 1,200 more were scattered, living mostly on farms.⁽¹⁾

The eastern part of the county is rugged, mountainous territory, and farming is a "risky undertaking."⁽²⁾ However, the owners of this property part of a tract called "Sweepstakes,"⁽³⁾ have farmed it fairly successfully. Clara Willard Brinkman brought the 107 acre farm in 1883, and it seems likely that the house was built within the next few years.⁽⁴⁾

The Trail Frame House is a typical rural farm dwelling in the eastern section of Allegany County. It stands as a reminder of the determination of the farmers of that area to make their land produce a living from farming.
