DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (If known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Tewell - Wilson House stands to the north of Wilson Road in Allegany County.

The house is an early-mid nineteenth century two stories high stone structure with a one story stone wing on the north end and a later frame addition to the stone wing and a frame wing on the south and west sides. The house has a metal covered roof and a stone end chimney on the north end of the two stories portion. The principal facade (east side) has two bays with a door and a window with a flat arch on the first floor.

The entrance has entablature molding about five inches wide. Evidence shows that the first floor room of the two story portion had chair railing at one time.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Tewell - Wilson house is typical of the many small stone houses that were built from the late eighteenth to the mid nineteenth centuries in western Maryland. Altered with time to suit the changing tastes and needs of the occupants, this house was probably built in the mid nineteenth century. Heritage Press states that it was erected for John McElfish Twigg.¹ (September, 1972)
