Located at 121 Bedford Street, the building stands on the southerly side of the street east of South Centre Street in Cumberland, Allegany County. The building is a three story brick structure with a shed roof that slops down to the south. The facade is crowned with a bracketed cornice with a row of dentil-like brick work below. The first floor has a recessed entrance and a group of three rectangular windows. The upper two stories have round arch windows with brick arches above. The brick arches have exaggerated keystones of stone that rise nearly two-plus feet above the arches. STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE  121 Bedford Street is representative of turn of the century Romanesque architecture in the central business district of Cumberland. The building offers an interesting contrast to the Greek Revival houses scattered along Bedford Street. The Cumberland Urban Renewal Agency purchased the property in June, 1974. The building is probably scheduled for demolition with the construction of a bridge over the railroad tracks to the east.
