The house at 424 Race Street in Cumberland, Allegheny County, Maryland is not eligible for listing on the National Register of Historic Places. The two-story, three-bay, frame dwelling was built in the late 19th-early 20th centuries in a vernacular Queen Anne style. It is a typical example of a vernacular domestic building for the period and lacks the architectural distinctiveness and integrity necessary to qualify it for listing under Criterion C. The property is not known to have any associations with persons or events significant to our past, and thus does not qualify under Criteria A or B.
