Coal Company House or Wolford House
Eckhart

c. 1845

The Wolford House was built between 1830 and 1850 by the Consolidation Coal Company. Originally the house was a square stone structure, three bays wide and one and a half stories high. Although it is smaller than some, the Wolford House is typical of the type of housing built by the mining companies for their workers.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Wolford old stone house is located along old Route 40 in Eckhart, Allegany County on the north side of the road near the intersection of Porter Street.

The house consists of a one and a half story, three bay wide square shaped facade. A rectangular wing abuts the main block on the rear northern side and is one story high. The building is constructed of stone with rubble bond and is supported by a similarly constructed stone foundation with no water table. The roof of the house is gabled and is covered with replaced asphalt shingles. Windows in the structure include double hung wooden sash frames with one-over-one lights and a stone pediment on the flat arches. The main entrance is found on the front, southern face and is recessed and exhibits replaced door and hardware. A three bay end porch with shed roof supported by iron rod columns covers the main entrance and is a new addition. One corbeled brick chimney, which appears to be original is located on the flush western end of the structure.

The stone house is structurally sound, and retains much of its original fabric, other than the new rear addition.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Woford old stone house was built between 1830 and 1850 by the Consolidation Coal Company. The structure is another building constructed for the purpose of supplying mine workers with a means of inexpensive and adequate housing. The company houses were built in the Eckhart mining community when the mines were very prosperous and could afford to house their own workers. A variety of materials were used in the construction of these houses and this building is an excellent example of the stone type of housing used. The house is in good condition and enhances the cultural heritage of Allegany County.
