

HERSICK FRAME HOUSE

AL-VI-B-071
Railroad Street, Midland
ca. 1900

The Hersick Frame House is a two story, three bay wide, "L" shaped frame structure of the Queen Anne style. The house is believed to have been built circa 1900 due to the time lag in the development of architectural styles in this part of the state. The house is in excellent condition and is a reminder of a way of life of the more affluent citizen in Allegany County.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Hersick House is located on Railroad Street in Midland, Alle-gany County.

The Hersick Frame House is a two story, three bay wide, "L" shaped frame structure that has been covered with aluminum siding. The entire structure rests on a low stone foundation with a plain water table. The roof is gabled with a boxed cornice and returns and is covered with asphalt shingles. While the roofline is interrupted by both a cross gable and a cupola, making the house three stories high at one corner. Windows in the structure are double hung wooden sash frames with one over one lights and louvered shutters. A two story bay window supports the third floor cupola. The main entrance is located at the apex of the "L". Both the door and the hardware have been replaced. The entrance is covered by a three bay shed roofed porch which is supported by chamfered columns and brackets. An original and a replaced corbeled brick chimney are located in the interior of the house.

The Hersick Frame House is in good condition and retains much of its original fabric and appearance.
