

ST. PETER'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

AL-VI-B-088

St. Peter's Place, Lonaconing
1859

The present St. Peter's Church is a single story, frame structure that was constructed in 1859 on the ~~sight~~^{site} of the original log church. The church itself was organized by the workers and the officials of the George's Creek Coal and Iron Company with the hope that St. Peters might become the official church of the community of Lonaconing. Although this never happened, the church remained in good condition and retains much of its original fabric and appearance.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

St. Peter's Episcopal Church is located on St. Peter's Place, Lonaconing, Allegany County.

St. Peter's Church is a single story, three bay wide frame structure that has been covered with aluminum siding. The roof is gabled with a boxed cornice and returns and is covered with replaced asphalt shingles. The church rests on a low stone foundation and has a central entrance tower which abuts the main block on the southern side. Windows in the church are rectangular stained glass lights with architrave trim. A single bull's eye window is located in the gable end of the entrance tower. The main entrance is located in the entrance tower beneath a small louvered belfry. A single brick chimney is located in the inside gable end.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

St. Peter's Episcopal Church was organized in 1839 by the workers and officials of the George's Creek Coal & Iron Company. "The management (of the George's Creek Coal and Iron Company) was particularly interested in organizing an Episcopal Church, which would be, as it were, the official church of the community."¹ On February 15, 1839 the company began construction of a log building that was to have sixteen pews and seat 100 persons.² The cost of the original church came to $390.00.³ The company patronage of St. Peter's is further evident in the fact that the first chalice and patten set was given by Abel Smith, Esq. M.P. and was sent from Woodhall Park, Herfordshire, London, England.⁴

In 1859 a second church was built on the site of the original log building. The new building was of frame construction. Although it has remained much the same since its original construction, several additions were made to this frame structure in the present century. In the early 1900's a sacresty and cloak rooms were added and in 1960 the bell tower was erected. And finally in 1969 the building was covered with aluminum siding.

Unfortunately for the George's Creek Coal & Iron Company St. Peters never became the official community church. Nevertheless, the church is in good condition and retains much of its original fabric and appearance.
