| This quartet of small houses sharing party walls is an excellent example of four differently colored houses being unified with a single cornice - a fine Victorian cornice with large brackets and Victorian modillions and unified by four elliptical wood panels beneath (it is, I think, a rare motif) window sash is original as is clapboarding on No 37. Small but nice and relatively unadorned row houses - good of their type and good for street scale. | | OPEN TO PUBLIC no | |
