DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (if known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

Christ Church was built between 1867 and 1869. The first minutes of meetings of the vestry begin in 1869. They indicate that a rectory was built for the first pastor, William Hughes, at about the same time as the church.

The appearance of the house has changed over the years - a bay window has been added to the front on the first floor and several additions have been made to the rear of the house. The siding has been replaced with asbestos shingle. The structure is frame, 2 1/2 storys high, on an ell form plan. A one story porch fills the corner of the ell and covers the entrance.

The detailing of both the interior and the exterior, is simple. The small arched windows, placed high on the gables at each end of the ell, and the eaves, supported by extensions of the rafters, are reminiscent of the "Carpenter Gothic" detailing of the church itself.

The rectory stands within the compound of the church, sheltered from the road by a high hedge and surrounded by large trees.
