DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (if known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The enclosed pamphlet contains information about Pig Point. Once a thriving village, the steamboat landing, stores, post-office etc., have all gone and now only a small group of houses remains. The Greenwell House is the most prominent though several others date from before 1900.

The Greenwell House is a small, 2 story, frame structure dating from the mid-19th century. It appears on the 1878 county map as belonging to J. Greenwell. The house has a typical side-hall, double-parlor plan with two interior brick chimneys at its west end. The 3 bay south (front) elevation is covered by a one story screened porch. The exterior wood siding has been covered with "brick" asphalt shingle. The one story, one room kitchen wing attached to the west end is covered with the same material.
