The Jeffrey Cemetery is a small family burial ground located in northwest Anne Arundel County, west of Ridge Road (Rt. 713) between it and Clark Road. It lies approximately 1/2 mile south of Dorsey Road (Rt. 176).

It contains at least 5 graves of the Jeffrey family, the oldest being the grave of Richard Jeffrey, who died in 1888.

There are also tombstones for George F. Jeffrey (died 1907) and an infant son and daughter of William T. and Inia Jeffrey.

According to both Martinet's map (1860) and the Hopkins Atlas (1878), Richard Jeffrey was a farmer owning 150 acres of land, adjacent to the cemetery. It appears that the farm was located just northwest of the cemetery, off Clark Road. The farm road is blocked and the farm buildings have collapsed.

Prepare both a summary paragraph of significance and a general statement of history and support.

The Jeffrey Cemetery is an example of a small family burial ground. It exists in isolation from its historic surroundings; the Jeffrey farm was apparently abandoned and subsequently fell into ruin. As in many cases then, these small cemeteries serve as sole indicators of where dwellings and/or farms were once located.

According to both Martinet's map (1860) and the Hopkins Atlas (1878), Richard Jeffrey was a farmer owning 150 acres of land, adjacent to the cemetery. It appears that the farm was located just northwest of the cemetery, off Clark Road. The farm road is blocked and the farm buildings have collapsed.
