DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (if known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This house is similar to 1216 St. Paul Street except for individual variations in the carved ornament, the lack of a basement entrance (2 original grilled cellar windows appear) and a variation in the roof treatment.

On this house the cornice is not interrupted by the wall dormer. This dormer has a jerkinhead roof rather than a peaked roof. A flat pilaster separates the windows and just below the molding which edges the roofline appears a course of square stones each ornamented by an incised pattern. A slight drop in floor level between this house and 1220 St. Paul Street is emphasized by a short colonnette with a Romanesque capital that appears at the party wall line. The base rest on a bracket carved as a grotesque and a carved block appears above the capital.
