DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (if known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The first story facade has been remodeled to accommodate a flat door located in the center of the facade in this two and one half story high, two bay wide rowhouse. The door is surmounted by a flat transom and is recessed. A single stone step leads to the entrance. This facade also includes two flat plate glass store windows flanking either side of the door. The windows and entrance are surmounted by a twelve light transom.

The second story facade features an oriel that houses three flat windows of one over one lights, stone sills, and stone lintels. They are separated by two artificial pilasters. The facades of the second and half stories are of rusticated bricks and are visually divided by a cornice carrying egg and dart decoration. The prominent feature of the half story is the dormer with two flat double hung windows with one over one lights, stone sills, and stone lintels surmounted by a decorative frieze band. A decorative pediment crowns the dormer facade.
