DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (if known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

These two rowhouses dating from the mid to late 1800's are located in the middle of the block and have been altered to serve as a unit. In all probability, it was very similar to that building described under 1039 St. Paul Street.

The original door located in the first bay on the left has been blocked up and made into a first floor window identical in shape to the other first floor windows which are arched, double hung with four-over-four lights, arched brick lintels and stone sills. The second entrance door, located in the fourth bay has been lowered and become rectangular in shape surmounted by an octagonal window with six lights. It is presently used as an apartment house.
