DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

A vertically scribed metal shopfront has been added to this 3 story bay building of tan brick, with a flat roof.

The shopfront has a deeply recessed door, one panel of the shop window at right angles to the street forms the right wall of the recess. The shopwindow consists of a large glass panel on the street and the small one on the recess. There is a metal panel under the window and a wide pane, over the whole width of the building, just under a concrete cornice.

There are 2 tripartite windows, each with a wider central portion and 3 transoms. Each panel of these windows is a single pane of glass, the two side panels tilt horizontally. The windows are framed at sides and top by a relief band of brick. There are concrete sills with 2 relief courses of brick under each.

A bracket cornice, which ends just short of the sidewalls of the building is topped by a low parapet.
