DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Govans School is a multi-bayed, two story building of the Mission style. It is built of brick set in stretcher bond. The exterior has been painted beige in recent years. Three brick chimneys and a stepped parapet roof-trim decorate the roof line. The facade of the building projects in the third bay and further in the first and second bays. Windows of the first, second, fifth and eighth bays have 6/6 lights. In the fourth bay windows are narrower with 4/4 lights, and in the sixth and seventh bays are wider with 8/8 lights. All of the windows mentioned are identical in the first and second stories, and are double hung with plain surrounds and flat-topped transoms of two to four lights. The window in the third bay (in the stairwell) is larger with 9/9 lights. The main entrance in the third bay has pilasters in the surround-sides, a flat topped transom with six lights and a segmental pediment. Stringcourses run above the first and second stories. The right eight bays are symmetrical to the left eight bays. The Govans School is located at the old intersection of Govane Avenue and Campbell Lane, one block east of York Road. Additions were made in 1931 and 1951.
