DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

500 Tunbridge Road is a one story bungalow. Its exterior wall material appears at first to be formstone but it is actually concrete block. A bellcast hipped roof is decorated with a hipped dormer on the west and a gabled projecting frontispiece on the south. There are simple double windows in both projections. The roof overhangs an open porch extending around the west and south, and another on the east. The overhang rests on Ionic columns with concrete supports. Two urns flank the wooden steps leading up to the porch. Shuttered windows, numbering four in both of the west and south facades, are double hung with simple surrounds and 1/1 lights. The main entrance has a flat-topped transom and side panels. Corners of the building are decorated with quoins composed of a different color of concrete block. The same material is used in the construction of a short wall surrounding the adjacent land.

500 Tunbridge Road is situated in a zone of transitional housing types. Edwardian duplexes, common early twentieth century bungalows, and post-World War II duplexes are all in the immediate vicinity.
