1105-1139 William St. (East side)
Baltimore, Md.
Private access

c.1840-1895

The east side of the 1100 block of William St. is improved with a variety of house types dating over a wide range of years. At 1105 William St. there is a two story plus attic, two bay wide brick house, built in the early 1840's. 1107-1109 and 1111-1113 William St. are pairs of three story, two bay wide brick houses with shed roofs and bracketed cornices, built in the late 1850's or 1860's. 1115-1117 William St. is a pair of three story, three bay wide brick houses with shed roofs but no extant roof cornice probably built in the early 1880's; 1119 William St. is a three story, two bay wide brick house with shed roof but no extant roof cornice, built in the late 1870's. At 1121 William St. there is a late Victorian style two story, two bay wide brick house with shed roof and bracketed cornice, built in the late 1870's; 1123 and 1125 William St. are both two story plus attic, two bay wide brick houses, built in the 1840's; 1127 William St. is a late Victorian style two story, three bay wide brick house with shed roof and bracketed cornice, built in the early 1890's; and 1129 William St. is the remaining two story, two bay wide brick back building of the original house that once stood at the front of the lot, probably built in the 1840's or 1850's. At 1131-1133 and 1135-1137 William St. there are two pairs of three story, two bay wide brick houses with shed roofs and bracketed cornices, built in the late 1870's or early 1880's. Finally, at 1139 William St. there is a two story, two bay wide brick house with gable roof set perpendicular to William St. This original gable-roofed house is now obscured behind a later two story front with flat roofline. The modernized structure, with deep rear addition, now serves as a bakery.

 DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This three story, two bay brick house with shed roof represents an enlargement of the original gable roofed house that was built on this site in the 1840's and formed part of a group of such houses extending along this side of William St. The house has been covered with formstone.

The house is three stories in height, 15' wide, and occupies a lot 82' deep. There is a three story high, one bay wide and deep stair hall extension which connects the main house to a three story high, two bay deep rear addition, followed by a two story high, two bay deep addition. The house is constructed in running bond but the facade has been covered with formstone. The shed roof has no cornice. There is a single rectangular chimney located along the center section of the south side of the house. There are also rear end chimneys located at the east end of both the three story high and two story high rear additions.

Although the original treatment of the door and window lintels and sills has been hidden by the formstone covering, it appears that the door and window lintels were flat. The first floor window opening is filled with a 1/1 double hung sash; the second and third floor window openings are filled with the original 4/4 double hung sash. There is a late Victorian glass and panel door set beneath a single light transom. The house sits on a very low basement, the entrance being reached directly from the street. A flat-roofed alleyway runs back under the southernmost bay of the house.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

See under 1107-1109 William St.

The house seems to have been enlarged and remodeled by Louis Ludwig, a tobacco packer who lived here from 1877 into the early 1900's.¹
