Private access

The south side of the 200 block of E. Cross St. is improved with a variety of house types ranging in date from the late 1830's to the 1870's and 1880's. 221-223 E. Cross St. is a pair of two story plus attic brick houses built in the early 1850's. To the west, at 219 E. Cross St. there is a two story, two bay wide gable-roofed brick house built in the 1860's; at 217 E. Cross St. there is a three story, two bay wide brick house with shed roof and bracketed cornice representing a post-Civil War remodeling of an 1855 house; at 215 E. Cross St. there is a late Victorian two story, three bay wide brick house with shed roof and Italianate bracketed cornice representing either an 1880's remodeling or replacement of the original 1850's house on the site; and at 213 E. Cross St. there is a two story, two bay wide gable-roofed brick house similar to that at 219 E. Cross St. and also built in the 1860's. Across Durst Alley to the west there is a three story, two bay wide gable-roofed brick house at 211 E. Cross St.; a pair of two story, two bay wide gable-roofed houses at 207-209 E. Cross St. built in the 1850's; a three story, two bay wide brick house with shed roof and bracketed cornice, now covered with aluminum siding, at 205 E. Cross St., which probably represents an enlargement of an 1840's or 1850's house; and finally a pair of two story, two bay wide late Federal style houses (though currently without dormer windows) built in the late 1830's by the Dempster family at 201-203 E. Cross St. Only one house of an original row of ten two story, two bay wide brick houses with shed roofs built along the east side of Durst Alley in the 1850's survives at 1115 Durst Alley. These houses were probably built by William Webb, the builder of the row of two story plus attic houses on the front portions of the lots at 1110-1124 Battery Ave.

This two story brick house with gable roof was built in the 1850's and formed part of a group of such houses extending along this side of Cross St. The house occupies the south-east corner of Cross St. and Durst Alley.

The house is two stories in height, 14' wide, and occupies a lot 66' deep. The house is two rooms deep and there is a one story high, three bay deep rear addition. The house is constructed in common bond. The moderately-pitched gable roof has a two-tier brick cornice. There is a single chimney located along the rear roof gable on the east side of the house.

The first and second floor window openings have flat wood lintels and brick header sills. The doorway has a common arch lintel. The original first floor window has been replaced by a double window, composed of two regular 1/1 double hung sash. The second floor windows are also filled with 1/1 sash. A modern flush door is set beneath a single light transom. The house sits on a very low basement, the entrance being reached directly from the sidewalk.
