The south side of the 200 block of E. Cross St. is improved with a variety of house types ranging in date from the late 1830's to the 1870's and 1880's. 221-223 E. Cross St. is a pair of two story plus attic brick houses built in the early 1850's. To the west, at 219 E. Cross St. there is a two story, two bay wide gable-roofed brick house built in the 1860's; at 217 E. Cross St. there is a three story, two bay wide brick house with shed roof and bracketed cornice representing a post-Civil War remodeling of an 1855 house; at 215 E. Cross St. there is a late Victorian two story, three bay wide brick house with shed roof and Italianate bracketed cornice representing either an 1880's remodeling or replacement of the original 1850's house on the site; and at 213 E. Cross St. there is a two story, two bay wide gable-roofed brick house similar to that at 219 E. Cross St. and also built in the 1860's. Across Durst Alley to the west there is a three story, two bay wide gable-roofed brick house at 211 E. Cross St.; a pair of two story, two bay wide gable-roofed houses at 207-209 E. Cross St. built in the 1850's; a three story, two bay wide brick house with shed roof and bracketed cornice, now covered with aluminum siding, at 205 E. Cross St., which probably represents an enlargement of an 1840's or 1850's house; and finally a pair of two story, two bay wide late Federal style houses (though currently without dormer windows) built in the late 1830's by the Dempster family at 201-203 E. Cross St. Only one house of an original row of ten two story, two bay wide brick houses with shed roofs built along the east side of Durst Alley in the 1850's survives at 1115 Durst Alley. These houses were probably built by William Webb, the builder of the row of two story plus attic houses on the front portions of the lots at 1110-1124 Battery Ave.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This three story, two bay brick house with gable roof represents either an enlargement or replacement of the original brick house that occupied this site as early as 1815. The house has been covered with formstone. It occupies the south-west corner of Cross St. and Durst Alley.

The house is three stories in height, 13 1/2' wide, and occupies a lot 58' deep. The house is two rooms deep and there is a two story high, two bay deep rear addition. The house is constructed in running bond but the facade has been covered with formstone. The low-pitched gable roof has a two-tier brick cornice. There is a double rectangular chimney located along both the front and rear roof gables on the west side of the house.

Although the original treatment of the door and window lintels and sills has been hidden by the formstone covering, it is apparent that the openings had flat lintels. All of the window openings are filled with 1/1 double hung sash. There is a modern flush door set beneath a single light transom. The house sits on a very low basement, the entrance being reached by one stone step.

SPECIFIC DATES original c. 1810-15/enl.1860's BUILDER/ARCHITECT Isaac Hall (original)

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The original structure on this site seems to have been built by Isaac Hall on a portion of Caleb Hall's land which ran south several blocks from Cross St. and east to Covington St. The present structure appears to date from the early 1860's and seems to have been built by John T. Taylor.¹ The house is the typical type of three story, gable-roofed house that was built for a middle-class market in Federal Hill in the 1840's and 1850's. (For further details see under 1134-1140 Battery Ave.)
