DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE
Exterior Only:

Three houses remain standing on the west side of Courtland Avenue. Although they have been altered for commercial purposes, they still retain much of their original design.

The 2½ story structures measure two bays wide by three bays deep and rest on rock-face formstone foundations. The sides are covered with asbestos shingles, and the fenestration is regular with the exception of occasional alterations.

The main facade of # 204 faces East and contains an entrance in the southernmost bay of the first level with a pair of 6/1 sash windows in the north.

Windows occupy the outer bays of the second level. Unlike its neighbors, this house is characterized by its equilaterally hipped roof.

The fenestration is somewhat irregular in placement on the north and south sides. The westernmost bays are windowless on the south facade while the first level of the north facade contains a single 6/6 sash window in the east bay, a pair in the west, and vice-versa on the second level.

Other characteristics include wooden lintels and sills and a brick flue chimney breaking the eaves of the south facade West of center.
