Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

This three-bay I-house faces west onto Solomons Island Road. It is a framed and weatherboarded structure with one surviving off-center ridgeline brick stove flue, a two-story rear shed addition, and a one-story rear shed. A gable-roofed screened-in porch shelters the central doorway and the southern flanking window. Original window sash have a two-over-two double-hung pattern. The original siding has been replaced. This house probably dates from the late nineteenth century.
