Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

This three-bay framed and weatherboarded I-house faces west onto Solomons Island Road. It has brick chimneys built along the interior partition walls and a front-facing gable centered above the central bay of the facade. There are two-over-two double-hung-sash windows and an advanced one-story weatherlock built onto the main entrance. The facade is sheltered by a hipped-roof screened-in porch. There is a two-story rear ell. The house is embellished with sawn and pierced decoration at the apex of the gable ends. On the facade, sawn brackets are interspersed with molded panels at the cornice line. The gable ends are emphasized with wooden pinnacles. This house dates from the late nineteenth century.
