DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The McClyment House, Main Street, Greensboro is a one and one-half story frame dwelling with gable facing the street. It has a porch across its street facade with a door and two windows opening thereon. Above is a single 6/6 sash window. The walls are covered with aluminum siding.

Inside the plan originally consisted of two rooms deep with enclosed stair between. A kitchen has been added onto the west end of the house.

In the cellar are the walls supporting the structure, which are granite. From the chimney bases in the cellar the building would appear to have been built after the introduction of stoves into the area, as the footings are too small to support a fireplace.

The interior of the dwelling has been remodeled so little of antiquity is visible. It has been converted into a comfortable dwelling by its present owners.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The McClyment House is significant not so much for its present appearance or original fabric as it is a good example of the early form dwelling being constructed after the middle of the 19th century. Normally at this period of Caroline's development the residences took other forms and plans, but this dwelling is closely related to the first forms and plans in the county.
