DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Framehouse on Ninetown Road was destroyed by a fire in the mid-1970's. The site is located on Ninetown Road approximately $\frac{1}{4}$ mile from Maryland Route 312 north of Ridgely, Caroline County. A survey in the early 1970's determined that this house was of early nineteenth century construction, roughly 1800-1820. It was not on its original site, but had been moved to Ninetown Road in the early 1970's.

The house was a one and one-half story, five bay frame structure with beaded clapboards. It was on a new concrete block foundation and had block stove flue chimneys inside each gable end. The main facade had a symmetrical arrangement of a central doorway and four 6/6 pane sash windows. The roof was shingled and had two gabled dormers, also containing 6/6 sash windows. Single casements flanked the chimney flues on both gable ends. The interior had a central passageway with a room to either side.
