Justification for decision: (Use continuation sheet if necessary and attach map)

The Mosley House, located at 303 Lincoln Street, Denton, Caroline County, MD is not located in an historic district nor is it considered eligible for individual listing on the National Register of Historic Places.

The Mosley House is a 2-1/2 story gable house built in 1900-1930. The frame structure has a beveled side which connects the south and east sides of the house. The windows are two over two. The entrance is covered by a gable roof.

The dwelling is typical of the domestic architecture of the period and lacks the architectural distinctiveness to qualify for listing on the National Register of Historic Places under Criterion C. The property is not known to have any associations with persons or events significant to our past and is thus not eligible under Criteria A or B.

Documentation on the property/district is presented in: Review & Compliance Files
