INDIVIDUAL PROPERTY/DISTRICT
MARYLAND HISTORICAL TRUST
INTERNAL NR-ELIGIBILITY REVIEW FORM

Property/District Name: J.C. Hull House Survey Number: CARR-1545

Project: MD 140 (Westminster Bypass) Agency: FHWA/SHA

Site visit by MHT Staff: no yes Name _____ Date _____

Eligibility recommended _____ Eligibility not recommended

Criteria: A B C D Considerations: A B C D E F G None

Justification for decision: (Use continuation sheet if necessary and attach map)

Based on the information provided by SHA, the J.C. Hull House, located at 1010 Meadow Branch Road, northwest of Westminster in Carroll County, does not meet any of the National Register Criteria for listing. The property includes a modest and much altered late 19th century frame house, a frame shed (probably outhouse), and two modern sheds. The house is architecturally undistinguished and has been so altered that it conveys little sense of its original historic character. The house appears to have built as the tenant house for a nearby farm. The property does not appear to possess sufficient architectural significance to warrant inclusion in the Register under Criterion C. It is not known to have been associated with significant events or people and thus is unlikely to warrant inclusion under Criteria A or B. It is located to the north of the National Register-eligible Roop Rural Historic District, in an area of similarly mediocre and much altered farmsteads. Thus, it does not appear to be a contributing resource in an eligible or listed historic district.

Documentation on the property/district is presented in: Project File, Maryland Inventory

CARR-1545
J. C. Hull House
Westminster
Carroll County, Maryland

Continuation Sheet 7.1
Description

The J. C. Hull House is a modest, poorly maintained and much altered late nineteenth century frame structure adjacent to Meadow Branch Road and located on the west side of Westminster in Carroll County. It is one of two nearly identical frame late nineteenth century structures located at the turn of Meadow Branch Road and situated between the farms owned by George Schaeffer (to the north) and Dan Burns (to the south) in the nineteenth century. The other property, on the south side, is the Schaeffer Tenant House (CARR-1544), which was sold by the Schaeffers in 1938. The Hull House is currently owned by the same people who own the C. Schweigart House (CARR-397) a short distance away.

The J. C. Hull House is built into a rise on the east, thus the rubble masonry foundation (and partially below grade entrance to the basement on the south) is exposed on the two sides. The structure has been clad with vinyl siding on the east, north and south sides, but the gable ends and west elevation have the previous cladding (brick pattern asphalt composition sheets) in place. The standing seam, metal gable roof parallels the flank of this rectangular structure and a brick chimney rises through the roof peak, slightly offset to the south. Most of the fenestration is regular, composed of two-over two lights, with small square windows located near the peaks of the gable ends.

The east entrance facade is largely disguised by a centered, screened, one-story porch. Two modern sheds (of metal or frame) are located to either side and west of the house, along with a shed roofed frame outbuilding, possibly an outhouse.

Continuation Sheet 8.1
Statement of Significance

This modest dwelling, probably constructed as a tenant house for one of the nearby farms, is located on land assembled from portions of land grants known as "Spring Garden", "The Gift", and "Kelly's Delight". Constructed around the turn of the twentieth century, it retains no original outbuildings, with the possible exception of an undistinguished frame domestic outbuilding which may have been utilized as a privy. In its present altered state the J. C. Hull House only minimally conveys an association with the past.
