CARR-235 Henry Guishard House
3349 Uniontown Road

3349 Uniontown Road is the first house in the section of town that was purchased by Rudolph Switzer from Thomas Metcalf in 1796. Switzer owned 21¼ acres of "The Orchard" which he sold to Dr. Charles Hubbs in 1807. Hubbs divided the land into several parcels, and this one passed through several hands until 1827, when Henry Guishard bought a 5½-acre parcel for $170. Guishard erected a log house here which appears in the 1837 tax assessment of Carroll County. Later Guishard sold the property in 1834 to the Nusbaum family, who owned the property into the late nineteenth century. The easternmost portion of this house is the original log section. The main facade was remodeled several times during the early twentieth century, with the main entrance now situated in the addition to the house. If Uniontown has its own ghost, it is located here because of Simon Kelly, a man who hung himself in the attic of this house during the early twentieth century.
