MEDFORD GRANGE HALL

c. 1902

Medford

private

The Medford Grange Hall was built circa 1902 and is a rusticated concrete block building. Legacy of the Land provides the following information:

Medford Grange was organized April 10, 1902. Charter members included Messers. Beacham, Slingluff, Englar, Stoner, Fritz, Martin, Snyder, Richardson and Hann. They built a Grange Hall on land donated by Hamilton Fritz. The stones used for the building were quarried from Mr. Fritz's property. Shares of stock in the Grange were sold to members and businessmen in Westminster. During the Depression, it was necessary to sell their hall because they couldn't pay interest on the mortgage.

The structure is now used as a private residence. Its architecture is representative of an early twentieth century public building with its gable front main facade with pediment, ornamental shingles and decorated circular window in the pediment, and rusticated block detailing.
