DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Holt Farmhouse c. 1860 is a 2 story frame house located off Old Field Point road and south of Racine School Road. The house faces the elk river and its primary gable runs north/south.

The house was built in two stages with a 2 story 2 bay by one room deep structure preceeding a 3 bay addition to the north, which continued the same gable roof. The house rests on an uncoursed stone foundation and is sheathed with composition tile and aluminum siding. The composition tile roof has a medium pitch. Stretcher bond stove stacks protrude out of the gable ends and in the center of the structure. The window sash are either 6/6 or modern replacements. The doors have also been changed.

Entrance was not gained in this instance, but not extremely necessary due to the apparent age and remodeled condition of the house.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Holt Farmhouse is not particularly important in any architectural sense outside the fact that it is one of a few older farmhouses associated with Old Field Point. The property undoubtedly was once part of St. John's Manor and later subdivided.
