DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Creggar House c. 1858-1877 is a 2^{1/2} story frame house on Oakwood Road just east of Pilot Town Crossroads. The house is on the north side of the road and faces south. The main gable runs east/west.

The 2^{1/2} story main block is 3 bays across by one room deep. A closed-in single story shed addition extends off the north (back) of the house and a screened in shed roof porch is attached to the south (front) of the building.

The house rests on an uncoursed stone foundation and the entire structure is sheathed with imitation brick composition tile. The structure has a medium sloped ~~to the~~ tin roof.

The south facade is three bays across with the main entrance occupying the central opening. The front door has been replaced and so has the early sash. 1/1 sash windows are found on the first and 6/6 on the second. The door and window surrounds are plain. The boxed cornice has sloped soffits.

The front porch also has a tin roof and the vertical boards on the ends have saw-tooth decorations.

The east and west sides are similar in appearance with approximately the same fenestration. The sash is again one over one on the first and 6/6 on the second. The end eaves are extended and closed. Small brick stove stacks protrude out of each gable end. 4 pane attic windows flank stack.

The house is located on a downward slope from front to back. The back shed is elevated with basement exposed.

Pilot Town owes its existence to two primary reasons. The first is the 19th Century mining activity in the area and the second is the shift of the Susquehanna crossing from the Bald Friar ferry to the town of Conowingo. The road from Pennsylvania to the Bald Friar ferry passed west of the present Pilot Town crossroads. It is obvious that this route predated any other southerly route in the vicinity especially since the earlier farms and houses are oriented to it. St. Patrick's Church (CE-834), Pembroke Farm (CE-836), Moore-Love log house (CE-845), and the Fulton-Alexander House (CE-841) all date from before the mid 19th Century and stand near or next to the earlier route. Due to the treacherous descent to the ferry and easier access at Conowingo a covered bridge was built across the Susquehanna at Conowingo, which eclipsed activity at Bald Friar. With the construction of a bridge at Conowingo a more direct southerly route from Pennsylvania was needed, which necessitated an easterly shift in travel. It amounted to a difference of a few hundred yards but was enough to form an intersection with the east/west Mount Pleasant road. Continued interest in the mining of feldspar, soapstone, and gravel in the mid 19th Century brought more development and change. Pilot Town was a definite result of these two factors and the mid to late 19th Century housing that exists today is ample evidence for this occurrence. Pilot Town supported a local market till the early 20th Century (CE-849) and its own school (CE-847) till about the same time.

The houses that make up Pilot Town are traditional two^{story} frame structures that one sees throughout Cecil County. (see CE-840, CE-842, CE-844, CE-846,

This is not to say that the previous agricultural life of area was replaced by the mines. The farming community continued as it had since the late 18th Century but now alongside mining operations that brought Irish immigrants in the early 19th Century.
