The old part of this house is at the rear of a typical three bay common bond stuccoed brick mid nineteenth century house. The old part, with a date stone in the gable, is two bays wide and one room deep. It is 2-~~1~~ stories in height with an A-roof and a chimney enclosed in the left end wall. All the window sashes and trim are new. This small wing is only important because it is dated and thus provides a model from which to date other houses. It has no great architectural refinements.

Also on the property of this farm is a small eight-sided building with a pyramidal roof. It is of board and batten construction and may have been a ^{dairy house} ~~well house~~

Condition: Very good
