Description of Property and Eligibility Determination (Use continuation sheet if necessary and attach map and photo)

The one-and-a-half story Colonial Revival-style house has a side-gabled roof and three front-gabled dormers. The brick house is three bays wide with a one-story wing at the west side. The windows are six-over-six double hung sash windows and the door surround is a Colonial Revival style design.

Towards the end of the first quarter of the 20th century, road improvements and developments also contributed to Charles County's community evolution. In particular, the Robert Crain Highway, later expanded as part of U.S. 301, attracted new development to older communities along its corridor. Crain Highway brought commercial development on La Plata's west side and contributed to the Charles County seat's overall growth in the 1920s and 1930s.

Built circa 1930, this house is not eligible for the National Register. While it is an earlier example of the residential development surrounding U.S. 301, this resource lacks significance related to events, persons, or architecture. Criterion D, information potential, was not assessed for this study.
