Description of Property and Eligibility Determination (Use continuation sheet if necessary and attach map and photo)

This brick Ranch house is one story high and five bays wide. Vernacular in style, it features stretcher bond brickwork, a fixed picture window with 2/2 horizontal sash sidelights, 2/2 horizontal sash windows, a 1-leaf door, and a side gable, asphalt shingle roof with a central interior brick chimney. The house is also marked by a recessed one bay entrance porch.

Located near Crain Highway and the town of Waldorf, this c. 1960 Ranch house reflects patterns of residential development that characterized the Waldorf area during the early- and mid-20th century. In 1872, the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad was laid, connecting Charles County to Baltimore. One of the stations on this line was located in the small village of Waldorf. As a result, by 1887, Waldorf grew to contain a Methodist Church, a school, two general stores, two saloons, and two hotels. By the beginning of the 20th century, road improvements and the use of the automobile began to further affect the development of the region. As trucks began carrying more tobacco and produce from southern Maryland to northern markets, the demand for better roads grew.
