

D-228
Mills Farmhouse
Madison
Private

19th century

This farmhouse, now nearly overwhelmed by vegetation, stands across from the Jarrett Farmhouse (D-33) on the Whitemarsh Road south of Madison. It is a typical one-and-one-half-story frame building, although it is much smaller than the majority of substantial farmhouses in the Madison area. Unlike the Jarrett Farmhouse, which was recently renovated after a period in which it stood vacant, the Mills Farmhouse appears condemned to a future of slow deterioration. No photograph.
