DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (if known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE
Steele Landing house is similar in form to North Joseph's Lott excluding the latter's kitchen wing. It is a three bay long, one and one-half story, frame dwelling with two exterior chimneys which have fireplaces on the first story only. It also has a kitchen wing the same height as the main portion, approximately half its size. There are three dormers on each side of the main portion of the 'A' roof. Across the south facade is an enclosed porch the entire length of the building. To the north side of the building has been added a bedroom and bath. The hall, stair passage and parlor of the original house have been converted into one large room. The stair has been changed from a center hall to extend from the landing along the south wall, similar to the new arrangement at Ernara. Interior trim is very simple. It appears to date from the second quarter of the 19th century.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

Steele Landing is a significant vernacular structure which bears features found in several other houses in the county. In form it is similar to North Joseph's Lott and Margaret's Delight. In detail it bears resemblance to Joseph's Lott and Ernara.

At one time there was a wharf on the creek and the property was called Bennett's Wharf. When the present owners remodeled in the mid--sixties, a 1862 penny was found beneath a rafter of the kitchen roof.
