George Sharp House
Buckeystown
Private

Circa 1882

The George Sharp House is one of three mid-nineteenth century houses which were built on the north end of Buckeystown and formed the first residential section of the town.

From the Land Records, it appears that the house was built by Luther Weller between 1882-1886 after he purchased one-half acre of land from Andrew McKinney in 1882. Just four years later, Weller sold the land to John Delashmutt for $1,000.00.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The George Sharp House is a two story frame gable roofed residence which faces west from the east side of Route 85 in Buckeystown.

The principal facade is three bays wide. A replaced door with one light transom and flanking louvered shutters is located in the second bay.

Occupying the remaining bays are 2/2 windows flanked with replaced louvered shutters. A twentieth century columned porch extends across the front of the building on the first level.

A two story frame addition covered with aluminum siding extends to the south side of the building and was added in the 1960's.

An original two story frame addition extends to the rear of the main block of the building. A two story open porch faces the south side.

The entire original building was built on a low random stone foundation. The house which was originally finished with German siding has been covered by aluminum siding.

The original structure is covered by a slate flank gable roof with corbeled brick chimneys straddling the north and south gables.
