DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This is a tall, three story brick building attached on each end and containing two houses. It is six bays wide and two bays in depth with two story "U" shaped wings being two bays wide and five bays long including the first bays which are of three stories. There are short balconies ending each wing. The front elevation is faced with an off-white brick while the sides and rear are of red brick, all in common bond. The first floor front is recessed by one bay and is occupied by large porches with turned banisters and square wood columns mounted on brick pedestals supporting the upper floors. The porches are reached by five steps. Rectangular doors with transoms occupy the end bays, an enclosed passageway to the rear gardens is in the center between the porches, and there are 1/1 sash windows on either side. The passageway is of board and batten construction and headed by a wood panel with cut-out designs. All front upper story windows are of 1/1, 6/6, and small 4/4 pane sash and all with segmental two row header arches. The windows on #429 are shielded by louvered shutters. Rear doors are paneled and without overlights. The roof of the front section is rather flat whereas the wings have metal shed roofs. There is a double chimney rising from the center of the roof (front). The front cornice is quite massive but simple in design. The top section is moulded and protrudes over the frieze by a line of arcaded niches containing large flower designs with petals around the center. A small size of the design fronts the cornice between the arches. Large brackets support the cornice at the center and ends and are carved by horizontal reeding and pyramid fronted blocks with small pediments at the top. These are ended by square end drops trimmed with two acanthus leaves. The first floor is topped by a moulded cornice with paired brackets separating rectangular panels of raised moulding. This building rests on a very high foundation. To the rear are long narrow flower gardens.
