DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

#124 is a detached three story frame house approximately three bays square with a newer (1930) second story bay extending to the left (east) above a side porch extension. A two story bay window section projects from the right side. Aluminum siding now replaces original Colonial style narrow siding.

A period glass over panels door occupies the center bay and the front is protected by a covered porch now extending around the left side which is supported by Doric columns.

All windows are of one over one sash. The attic is well lighted by peaked dormer windows projecting from the four sides of the third story mansard roof. This roof and the dormers are covered by embossed metal shingles to imitate tiles and adorned by moulded finials.

The house rests on a low fieldstone foundation and is surrounded by lawn areas and trees.

The interior is enhanced by parquet flooring and unusual features such as kitchen walls of white glazed bricks and an ornamental fireplace shield of cast metal.
