DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This is a large, 2-1/2 story brick church building, three bays wide and eight bays in depth with a three story, one bay square brick tower centered on the front; a two story brick chancel extension, two bays wide and one bay deep centered on the rear; a one story brick, one bay wide left side addition, extending the depth of the nave; and a small brick side extension on the right of the chancel area. All brickwork is of unpainted common bond. The front tower contains the main entrance of paneled double doors headed by a Gothic-arched transom with three segmental leaded, stained glass windows. The sides and third story of the tower and the front of the church contain tall, double, stained glass leaded windows headed by a Gothic arch. The third story side of the tower has louvered openings and the top is battlemented. This entrance tower is approached by a high brick-walled porch of ten steps and a granite sill. The entrance of the left side extension is of similar, but smaller, design. The eight Gothic-arched leaded stained glass windows on the right side have center panels of religious symbols. Large square 3/3 windows with brick soldier course lintels light the ground level basement area from the right side. The left side church extension has large 6/6 sash with flat soldier course arches. A round window is centered above the rear of the chancel and contains a leaded, stained glass window in a wood muntined, six pointed star design. All tower and building corners are braced by square brick piers corbelled and capped by triangular concrete blocks. Those also separate the pairs of windows on the right side. The church has a moderate slope "A" frame roof of slate. Because of the grade, the building sets on a graduated level fieldstone foundation. The front is enhanced by lawn areas, bayberry plantings, and a decorative church name and announcement sign on the lawn.
