This is a two story brick building five bays wide, approximately six bays in depth with a two bay concrete block rear extension. The front facade has been covered by formstone and the left sidewall is now faced with concrete block. The recessed entranceway occupies the center bay and is of classic design with a flat entablature. Windows are of 1/1 sash. The front roof slopes to the rear with a front parapet and a cornice with closely spaced Victorian cut brackets and turned pendants. The building sets on a rather low foundation.
