STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The site on which the house stands was purchased on April 30, 1752 by John Darnell, Clerk of the Circuit Court of Frederick County for 12 lbs. from Daniel Dulaney of Annapolis. It was 120 ft. to breadth and 390 ft. in length. Plans were made for the building of a Court House and a prison for Fredericktown to the west of the site. John Darnell or his heirs were to hold the property forever after paying purchase price and six shillings annually for 21 years from May 10, 1751 after that 12 shillings annually. This contract was broken in August 1783 by John Darnell, son of the purchaser. He sold the lot for 425 lbs. to William Ritchie, Clerk of the Circuit Court at that time. Lots were then improved with a one story home. Mr. Ritchie resided here until his death on September 18, 1814. It was during this time the Repudiation of the Stamp Act was housed here as Mr. Ritchie kept the Court records in his home. In May of 1823, the property was sold to Dr. William Tyler. It served as the Rectory of All Saints Protestant Episcopal Parish and Dr. John Johns, who subsequently became Bishop of Virginia, occupied the home. Then it came into the possession of the legal fraternity. About 1865 it was purchased by William J. Ross and remained in his possession for many years. His sons, Charles W. Ross, Sr., John Newman, Benjamin Reich and Richard P. Ross occupied the building. The property was sold to Mr. J. Alleine Williamson who demolished the original structure and built the present home in the spring of 1910.
