

The Hosmer House
Deer Park
Private

The Hosmer House is a two and a half story, gable-roofed, T-plan house with a three-bay, center-door facade. This "cottage", built entirely of Georgia pine shipped by rail to Deer Park, achieves its distinction as the home of Patrick J. Garrett, for many years the superintendent of buildings and grounds of the Deer Park Hotel, who bought the house in 1910.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Hosmer House is located off Deer Park Hotel Road on what was originally Governor's Boulevard in the plan of the small neighborhood surrounding the Deer Park Hotel, SW of the village of Deer Park. The House is set back from the road and is screened by evergreens.

The house is a two and a half story, gable-roofed, T-plan house with a three-bay center-door facade. The facade points S and its attic level has three gable dormers. A one-story, shed-roofed porch covers the facade's central bay and a similar porch covers the N elevation of the T.

The house rests on a cut and squared stone foundation and the frame walls are covered with natural wood weatherboarding. The framing and weatherboarding are Georgia pine. The N elevation of the mainblock, E of the T, and the E elevation of the T are covered with brown aluminum siding. Most windows are six over six sash. Although there are a few one over one sashes. On either side of the facade door are small square four-paned windows, and on the attic level of the gable ends and in the dormers are square nine-paned windows. At the N end of the E elevation of the main block is a seven-sided bay; five of its sides have windows, the central side a six over six sash and two sides on either side of it three-paned windows.

The facade door has two windows made up of small panes set in its upper half.

The roof is covered with tar paper. The sides of the dormers are covered with wood shingles. The house has three interior brick stone chimneys; one at either gable end on the main block, and one on the E elevation of the T. The facade porch has a half wall of weatherboards and a central entrance. Above the half wall the porch roof is supported by wooden posts with simple carved brackets. The rear porch is modern.

The interior is arranged around a central stairhall and is composed on the first floor of the main block of four rooms. All interior finishes are of Georgia pine. Other details are unknown.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This house is one of several built on land around the Deer Park Hotel which was owned by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. After the completion of the hotel in the 1870's, the railroad began selling plots of land around it for the wealthy to build summer cottages. This "cottage", built entirely of Georgia pine shipped by rail to Deer Park, was constructed for the Hosmer family by J.M. Jarboe, a prominent Oakland builder. However, the house achieves its distinction as the home of Patrick J. Garrett for many years the superintendent of buildings and grounds of the Deer Park Hotel, who bought the house in 1910.

- Patrick Garrett, apparently no relation to John Work Garrett, president of the & O Railroad, who gave the county his name, managed the buildings and grounds of the Deer Park and Oakland Hotels for 1887 to 1929. Under his supervision annexes were added to the Deer Park Hotel in 1887. He also managed the Deer Park Improvement company Farm and the Garrett and Frick Cottages. In all, Patrick Garrett's domain covered over 4000 acres, including the Boiling Spring. Mr. Garrett's wife was a great-granddaughter of Meshack Browning, and the Garretts' son Robert and his wife occupied the house after the Garrett's death. Mrs. Robert Garrett still lives in the house.

In 1889 Katherine B. Hosmer was sold Lots 1 and 2 and Addison A. Hosmer Lots 3 and 4 in Block 2 of a Plat of Deer Park, by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company; however, no deeds were ever issued to them by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company.

The Hosmers built a house and "other appurtenances" on the land and in 1910 wanted to sell to Patrick J. Garrett so the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company issued a belated deed to him.
