

HA-1173
JONES HOUSE
Havre de Grace, Md.

c. 1880's

The Jones House is a two and a half story, four bay by one bay frame Gothic Revival cottage with a wing on the rear. The cottage's flat front is given a distinctive appearance by German siding and a center gable which is lighted by a Gothic arched window, having curved muntins in the upper sash. Many house like this one were built in Havre de Grace after the Civil War; happily most of them remain to form the town's most prevalent form of architecture.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

318 North Stokes Street is a two and a half story frame Gothic Revival Cottage with a flat front and a center gable. It is four bays wide and one bay deep with a two story wing on the rear, giving the house a t-shape. The front elevation facing east on Stokes Street is covered with German siding while the flanks and rear are clapboard.

Most of the windows in the house have 6/6 light double hung sash. The window in the north bay first floor possibly once used for displays is larger than the others and the 12 light window is stationary. A Gothic arched window, having an arched upper sash divided by curving muntins, is the front of the attic gable.

Originally the house had two entrances; but the entrance in the first bay is no longer used. Concealed by a rectangular piece of lattice, the entrance has a four paneled door with round arches in the upper panels and a three light transom. The door and enframment of the present off center entrance have been altered.

The house has a yard in the rear.

The main section has a gable flank roof with a center gable on the front elevation and a box cornice; the wing also has a gable roof. Both roofs are shingled with asphalt and have small brick central chimneys.
