DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Evan Rogers Log House is a one-story structure with an attic loft and a shed addition built about 1850-1860 on the north side of Cherry Hill Road just east of Deer Creek near Rocks, Harford County, Maryland. The main entrance is on the east elevation.

The house is located on a hillside sloping toward the south. The shed addition is on the north side of the log structure. The present door near the southeast corner may not be the original entrance. The exterior is covered with wide rough siding with untrimmed edges. At the southeast corner, the log joinery is visible, showing V notches. The windows are mostly 6/6 and the gable roof is new composition material. In the north gable end, some standard wood siding fills in the gable peak. The house has had several alterations over time. The interior may have originally been one or two rooms with the upper loft. With the shed addition, built within the past 20 years, the house now has three rooms on the first floor. The shed addition contains a brick chimney, but the original chimney was undoubtedly in the log section.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Evan Rogers Log House is significant for its log structure. Although the interior is greatly altered, and the log walls concealed, it has had few major structural changes.

Evan Rogers was a son of Isaac Rogers, the founder of the La Grange Furnace (sometimes called Rogers Forge) at Rocks (see HA-30-32). On the 1878 Martenet map, the log house is identified as "E. Rogers", while the furnace is shown as owned by E. S. Rogers. E. Stanley Rogers was the last owner of the furnace.

NOTE: HA-968 was originally assigned to Poole-Hoopes Stone Wall. Information on this structure is consolidated with HA-966, Edmund Hoopes House; Woodside.
