Documentation on the property/district is presented in: National Register of Historic Places Inventory-Nomination Form dated November, 1979.

Description of Property and Eligibility Determination: (Use continuation sheet if necessary and attach map and photo)

The property was most recently observed and photographed on January 17, 2003. Its condition was unchanged, with the exception of the west porch having the glass-enclosed portico removed and replaced with an open-air portico, since the preparation of the National Register of Historical Places Inventory form in the library of the Maryland Historical Trust.

The property is described in the National Register of Historic Places Inventory-Nomination Form prepared by Jean S. Ewing, Maryland Historical Trust, in November 1979. Following is a brief summary of that property description, as modified by site observations made January 17, 2003.

From the description, the house is a two story "L" shaped, gabled roofed (east to west), clapboard house, which is five bays by two, with the wing being three bays wide with no windows on the wing gable end elevation. Chimneys are located at each gable end wall. A one story front porch shelters the front door with a window on either side, a wood porch is located on the west side of the building, and another wood porch is located on the southeast corner of the building. In the 1979 inventory form the west side porch was reported and photographed as being glass-enclosed. That enclosure detail has been removed, and the west porch is now open and defined by painted wood railings. Fenestration is shuttered 6/6 sash windows and 4/4 windows at each gable end with wood lintels. In addition, the house was originally described as being in excellent condition and unaltered. With the exception noted, the property appears to be relatively unchanged from the photos and description in the attached 1979 inventory form.

The property appears to be well-maintained. It is unremarkable architecturally, and as mentioned in the 1979 survey, is similar to many other buildings in the area. It is not considered eligible for registration under any of the National Register evaluation criteria.

This ca. 1853 two-story frame farmhouse was built by William Carsins on a lot made up of parts of several tracts: "Clarks Tobacco", "Obadiah's Venture", "Improved Venture", "Doubloon", "Jacks Purchase", and "Gilberts Pipe". William Carsins, after whom the road and community of Carsins Run were named, was the sheriff of Harford County from 1865-1867.

Although not of extraordinary design, this house is a commanding one, set atop the hill at Carsins Run. Its site makes it impressive, and, indeed, among the mid-19th century farmhouses in the area, it is larger and more substantial than most. Small details like sash windows with gutters in the gables, the central pedimented gable in the porch roof, and interior gimmicks like the dumbwaiter and windmill-powered cooling trough distinguish this house from others of the same pattern.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

Set on top of a high hill overlooking the area known as Carsins Run, this two-story gable-roofed frame house looks extremely impressive from a distance. Upon closer inspection, however, this is a standard mid-to-late 19th century el-shaped farmhouse with a central pedimented gable. Set on a high stone foundation, the main section is five bays long and two bays wide, and the el is three bays long and one room deep with the east walls of the two sections flush. Each end has an interior brick chimney with 4/4 arched windows (with shutters) in the gables. First and second story windows have 6/6 sash and louvered shutters; the basement has 3/3 windows.

With a central entrance surrounded by a symmetrical arrangement of windows, the most whimsical feature of the north facade is the porch with a central pedimented gable echoing the roof shape above it. Spanning the central three bays of the first story, the hip-roofed porch with carved brackets and a railing with square balusters is set on a brick and latticework foundation.

Both ends of the north section have two windows in each story, including the gable.

The el has a partially-enclosed, shed-roofed porch on the east side and a glassed-in vestibule in the north bay of the west side. The south end is blank except for two 2/2 windows in the gable and a covered entrance to the basement.

South of the house is a frame barn probably the same age as the house.

The main section of the house has a standard center hall plan, while the el contains two rooms with a winder staircase in the southeast corner. Throughout the main section, the trim is plain with corner blocks and the doors have four panels. However, the entrance with a transom and sidelights has a door with one light over two panels. The main stairs in the center hall have a turned newel and balusters and plain step ends. Both fireplaces in the east and west rooms have been blocked up: the former has a mantel with a rounded shelf, molded cornice, frieze with inset panels, and pilasters with plain collars flanking the opening. The west mantel is similar, but without recessed panels in the frieze.

The el has plain trim, beaded board doors and originally had a dumbwaiter in the south wall.

The basement has stone walls and hand-hewn joists and posts in the eastern section. Along the north wall is a trough used to store milk and cream. According to one source, there was a windmill that pumped water into this trough. The room on the south apparently was a kitchen with a fireplace for cooking and a dumbwaiter that transported food up to the dining room directly above the kitchen.

The barn, said to have been built a decade after the house, was sold and dismantled. (The date 1863 was carved into a stone in the foundation.) The smaller frame barn used for storing corn is still standing.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

In 1834, John Carsins and Bennett Gilbert purchased 250 acres of "Clarks Tobacco", "Obadiah's Venture", "Improved Venture", "Doublon", "Jacks Purchase", and "Gilberts Pipe" from Sheriff Preston McComas.¹ Before the division of the land occurred in 1836, both Carsins and Gilbert died. Their heirs completed the division by two deeds, one in 1847 and one in 1855², and William Carsins bought out John Carsins' other heirs.

It is said that William Carsins built this house in 1853. Born in 1822 on this farm, William Carsins was the son of the sheriff of Harford County. He served as deputy sheriff under his father when he was 16, and from 1865-1867 served as Harford County's sheriff. He married Martha J. Maxwell in 1847 and they had 8 children: George (died in infancy), James (died at age 25), Mary, Elizabeth Jane, Anne Etta, Laura, John William, and Edward E.

In 1894 after William Carsins died, this lot of 160 acres was conveyed to J. Wesley and Lizzie J. Botts.³ In 1897, the Botts defaulted on their mortgage, and the lot was ultimately sold to Martha J. Carsins.⁴ In 1900, John H. Smith bought 49 acres of the property for $2050⁵, and the lot has stayed the same size since then.

Although not of extraordinary design, this house is a commanding one, set atop the hill at Carsins Run. Its site makes it impressive, and indeed, among the mid-19th century farmhouses in the area, it is larger and more substantial than most. Small details like sash windows with shutters in the gables, the central pedimented gable in the porch, and interior gimmicks like the dumbwaiter and windmill-powered cooling trough indicate that this was the home of a prosperous and progressive Harford Countian.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (If known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This frame clapboard farmhouse, L shaped, 2½ stories high, is 5 bays by 2 with 3 bays by 0 in the wing. Facing north, the roof ridgeline of this center-hall house runs east-west. A chimney inside each gable end wall rises from heating fireplaces on each floor, now blocked off or converted to furnace flues. Shuttered windows have 6 lights over 6 except in the attic where gable ends have two small 4 over 4 windows. A one story front porch shelters the front door and a window on either side, and a portico over the side door is glass-enclosed.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE (Include Personages, Dates, Events, Etc.)

One of dozens of similarly-shaped farmhouses in Harford County, this one is especially well-kept. The owner turned to the farm machinery business in the 1930's and has prospered since.
