Collier's Grist Mill is indicated on the Martennet Map of 1860. The present building still retains the original mill wheel and is now occupied as an office and upholstery shop for the owners, a firm of Interior Decorators who have renovated and restored this old structure in a most creative and imaginative manner.

The three bay wide, three bay deep, two story high stone structure is incased into a two story high, one bay deep, shed roofed frame addition which runs along its south wall. The two east entrances, a carriage door featuring an original wooden lintel and a smaller rectangular entrance covered by a gabled shake roof hood, open on to Tiber Alley, a picturesque cobble stoned street. The north wall faces the Tiber River and holds an interesting first floor sliding door and small balcony.

Half of the interior holds a second floor, featuring an interesting interior balcony.

Collier's Grist Mill of 1860 is now a stone and frame shed roofed, four bay wide, three bay deep, two story high structure whose east wall faces Tiber Alley and whose north wall runs along the Tiber River.

The east wall is particularly noteworthy as it indicates very clearly the three bay wide, two story high east wall of the original stone mill. Two original second floor rectangular, double-hung windows are clearly evident. One is centered into the second floor east wall, flanked by flat pilasters, underlined by a flat wooden sill, surmounted by a flat wooden and flat granite lintel and holding eight-over-eight lights. The other lies south, similar in all respects, other than its narrower width and four-over-four lights. A third window, similar to it in all respects other than its six-over-six lights lies north of the central second floor window.

Beneath this latter window rests a rectangular, battan wood door, surmounted and covered by a gabled shake roof hood supported diagonally by two timbers.

A wide first floor carriage entrance rests beneath the central and south bay second floor windows. A wide wooden lintel is supported by a wide central plank which creates a double entrance door to the old grist mill.

Tiber Alley which enters from Maryland Avenue is laid with original granite cobble stones and leads directly to the old mill's entrances, thence turns north at a right angle, crossing the Tiber River to Main Street.

Encasing this picturesque east entrance wall is a two story high shed roofed frame structure which holds a single, second floor, rectangular, double-hung window with six-over-six lights. A cinder block, one story high, shed roofed, double garage rests along this frame section of the east wall and faces northward to Main Street.

The most picturesque elevation faces the Tiber River. Its stone foundation is only a foot or so from this river. The first floor has an interesting rectangular sliding door holding nine lights in the upper half of the door with exterior timbers forming a Saint Andrew's Cross in the lower half. A small balcony extends about a foot northward, the width of the door leaving a small space on the west side of its railing for the door to slide westward, along an iron pole mounted into the stone wall above the door. Single, rectangular, double-hung windows, similar to those described, but holding nine-over-six lights flank this entrance. Above, on the second floor are similar windows, vertically aligned to the door and windows of the first floor. Only one window of the five on this wall has a single flat granite lintel, that in the east bay of the first floor. All the others have flat stone lintels composed of two ashlar granite stones.
The Collier's Grist Mill is indicated on the Martenot Map of 1860. The present building still retains the original mill wheel and is now occupied as an office and upholstery shop for the owners, a firm of Interior Decorators who have renovated and restored this old structure in a most creative and imaginative manner.

The three bay wide, three bay deep, two story high stone structure is incased into a two story high, one bay deep, shed roofed frame addition which runs along its south wall. The stone structure is still identifiable and opens on to Tiber Alley, a picturesque cobble stoned street. Its north wall faces the Tiber River and holds an interesting first floor sliding door and small balcony.

Perhaps the quaintest historic structure in Ellicott City and one which has been most imaginatively renovated and restored, the old mill is of outstanding significance to Ellicott City and the State of Maryland and should be considered for inclusion to the National Register and any future local landmark legislation.
