DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

According to oral informants, Mary Turner and her daughter Mary Turner, this house was the home of Mrs. Turner's husband's father, Harry Turner. The house has since been torn down and only the meat house remains of the original homestead. The Turners' house built in recent years now stands on the property.

According to the Turners, the house was a two story frame dwelling. It was the typical "I house" of the period. See the description of the David and Susie Turner house for a description of a typical homestead complex and of the ways of life of Turner families.
